

MADISON RODGES

Musician Madison Rodges has been an admired Empty Bowls Project performer for four years. While you may find her performing at many different venues, some of her favorite places include iconic Luckenbach, Texas, and Hudson's on Mercer, where the people and the atmosphere feel like home.

Madison finds inspiration in the music of Dolly Parton, Loretta Lynn, Miranda Lambert, and other classic country music singers. She has strived to keep that sound in her music while, at the same time, creating her own unique style. Madison sings her favorite song, Dolly Parton's Jolene, at every performance.

Her family has always told her that whatever she does in life, they hope that she's a light to the world. So, when she writes or performs, Madison keeps those words in mind and tries to be that light for someone.

Madison has certainly been a light for the Empty Bowls Project and we thank her for sharing her amazing talents with us! We look forward to seeing her again!

Madison has just released a new single called Don't Waste My Time. She has also recently had the opportunity to perform at several live venues, with more to come.

Please check her website for dates and locations.

LISTEN TO:

Madison Rodges

Website

Spotify

