

SUNSET CANYON POTTERY

BY: JOHN VELA

John has been a participant in the Empty Bowls Project since the very beginning – 23 years! – and everyone always looks forward to having his bowls at our fundraiser. John’s loyalty to this event is an example of why the Empty Bowls Project has continued to be so successful.

John’s pottery is creative and beautiful. At the studio, they work very hard to produce high-quality and long-lasting pottery that reflects the environment around us. Inspiration is found in nature and the cosmos, as well as in mid-century designs and styles. John has always been fascinated with color and chemistry and it definitely shows in the beautiful pottery he produces, using his own original glazes and patterns.

Many, many thanks to John for sharing his talents and time with the Empty Bowls Project for the last 23 years. He is truly a valued member of our event and part of the Empty Bowls family. We’re looking forward to seeing John again when we all return in 2021.

Sunset Canyon Pottery may be purchased on-line on their website or at various locations in the Austin area, including Sated Sheep in Dripping Springs, The Escape Gallery in Lakeway and Georgetown, Austin Pottery, and The Herb Bar.

5809 Burnet Road, Austin, Texas

Sunset
Canyon
Pottery

CONTACT:

Sunset Canyon Pottery
John Vela

Website

Instagram

Facebook

737.209.8888

Dripping Springs Helping Hands, Inc.