

DIRT DIVA POTTERY

BY: BECKY MURPHY

Ceramist Becky Murphy teams with Mindy Crowe to offer fun and functional clay works under the name Dirt Divas Pottery. The two artists are such a pleasure to have at the Dripping Springs Empty Bowls Project where they sell their pottery.

Becky's whimsical appendages to her pottery entices one to look beyond the practical use of the vessel. Becky believes that amusing objects can also be formed into respectable art. And it is easy to understand her beliefs when admiring her creations. Becky enjoys being a potter as it allows her to be "free thinking" and open minded while shaping hard clay.

Becky has contributed her bowls to our fundraiser for the past four years. We are incredibly grateful for her participation and contributions. Becky's artwork can be found at Fireside Clay Studios and by contacting her directly.

Many thanks to Dirt Diva Pottery for their support and we will welcome them back to our fundraiser in 2021!

CONTACT:

Becky Murphy
Dirt Diva Pottery

Website

Dripping Springs Helping Hands, Inc.